Where Dallas is a sauce. Where everything is always about to happen. Where the people don't do fuss. Where bread is bought from vending machines. Sometimes. Where languages spell complications. Where beer is cheaper than water. Where tax evasion is a national sport. Where French is spoken with an accent. Where perception is everything. Where Liège is capital of the world. Where highways stay up all night. Where new beat was born. Where Big Macs are called Giants. Where Schatje means darling. Where parliaments come by the dozen.

This is Belgium

Where poems are written for pigeons. Where millionaires drive VW Polos. Where Paris lives. Where popcorn is a tempo. Where facades come with rearview mirrors. Where everything is smaller. Where everything is bigger. Where baguettes rule lunchtime. Where mediocrity sometimes wins. Where Europe causes traffic jams. Where governments go missing. Where going international means home recognition. Where elsewhere is always better.
