Great Western Railway : Through the Window before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Through the Window:

This book was first published by The Great Western Railway in 1924 to enhance the enjoyment of their passengers on the 305 mile journey from Paddington to Penzance. Maps, line drawings and information about the towns and villages describe the glorious countryside of southern England that could be seen from the windows of The Cornish Riviera Express.
