Produced by the people behind the successful listings magazine, this new edition of Time Out London for Children provides families with all the information needed to explore the city, whether visiting with toddlers, teenagers, or both. Crammed with sights, shops, events, museums, galleries, playgrounds and parks, this guide leads travelers on a voyage of discovery around the city's must-see attractions and jam-packed cultural calendar. It includes insider tips on where to eat, shop, learn, and play, all on a variety of budgets. Also included are useful websites, phone numbers, maps, transport details, and age-range indicators, as well as suggested itineraries and recommended day-trips.

About the AuthorFounded in 1968, Time Out has grown from humble beginnings into the leading resource for anyone wanting to know what's happening in the world's greatest cities. Alongside our influential weeklies in London, New York, Chicago and Dubai, we publish more than 20 magazines in cities as varied as Beijing and Beirut; a range of travel books, with City Guides now joined by pocket-sized Shortlist series; and an information-packed website. The company remains proudly independent, still owned by Tony Elliott four decades after he launched Time Out London. Written by local experts, and illustrated with original photography, our books also retain their independence. No business has been featured because it has advertised, and all restaurants and bars are visited and reviewed anonymously.
